

USP Alumni Sharing Session

USP held its very first Alumni Sharing Session on 26 January 2007.

This session, mooted by some of our very enthusiastic alumni as a way of contributing back to USP, saw five of them - Beatrice Liu, Benjamin Lee, Ivan Yeo, Jaclyn Zhuang and Jet Teong - from both the public and private sectors coming back to share about their experiences in the working world. This was hot on the heels of the Get-Together of Alumni which took place on 27 October 2006.

During the sharing, the 55 students and alumni who were present learnt first-hand how their seniors or fellow alumni (respectively) embarked on their career paths, as well as their accounts of their lives at work after graduation.

In organising this sharing session, we hoped for our students to benefit from it by helping them to better plan their career paths, and also to provide our alumni who were contemplating a career switch with useful information.

This very successful event ended with an interactive Question and Answer session, followed by dinner where everyone had the opportunity to mingle with one another.

By the way

At the Scholars Programme Alumni Network (SPAN) Get-Together on 27 October 2006, more than 85 USP alumni and graduating students gathered at the NUS Suntec City Guild House to enjoy good food, good ambience, and most importantly, good company! In a show of true USP community spirit, those present included alumni from USP's predecessor programmes - the Core Curriculum and the Talent Development Programme, and faculty and admin staff who too, joined in the merrymaking! As aptly put by Class of 2006 alumnus, Benjamin Lee Ming-An, "It really was a wonderfully organised event and a lovely occasion to catch up with old friends."
